What's Covered

- Exam Fees, Diagnostics, and Treatment

Each type of coverage includes exam fees, diagnostics, and treatment. We even cover the most advanced treatments, like chemotherapy and surgery, and some you may not expect, such as stem-cell therapy and acupuncture, so you can follow your vet's recommendations with less worry about cost.
- Accidents

Accident coverage will take care of costs for injuries and emergencies related to accidents, like torn ligaments, bite wounds, cuts, broken bones, lodged foreign objects, and toxic ingestions.
- Illnesses

With illness coverage, you'll be reimbursed for the costs of major and minor illnesses, such as cancer, arthritis, allergies, hypothyroidism, digestive problems, and UTIs.
- Hereditary & Congenital Conditions

This coverage is for the costs of inherited conditions and birth defects that don't show symptoms until later in your pet's life, like heart disease, IVDD, eye disorders, and hip dysplasia.
- Behavioral Issues

Behavioral issues coverage can help with the costs of vet visits for concerning behaviors that may be related to anxiety or compulsive behavior, like excessive licking, fur pulling, and destruction of the home.

Good to know

Like all Pet Insurance Providers, we have exclusions.

- Waiting Periods

All coverage will start on the 15th day after the policy effective date.
- Pre-existing Conditions

No pet insurance provider covers pre-existing conditions: conditions that occur before coverage begins or during a waiting period. However, we will no longer consider a condition to be pre-existing if it has been cured and free of symptoms and treatment for 180 days, with the exception of knee and ligament conditions. If a knee or ligament condition occurs before the coverage effective date or during a waiting period, any future ones won't be covered.
- Cosmetic Procedures

Our plans do not cover elective procedures, such as tail docking, ear cropping, and claw removal.
- Breeding Costs

Our plans do not cover costs associated with breeding or pregnancy.
- Preventive Care

Coverage for preventive care, like annual wellness exams, vaccines, and screenings, is not included in this plan. You can add preventive care coverage for a little more per month after you select your base plan.
